Marge Schott

President & Chief Executive Officer

The Cincinnati Reds have made great gains in four seasons under the direction of Marge Schott as principal owner of the team. She has achieved two of her goals as the Reds have attained stability both on the field—with four consecutive second place finishes — and from a fiscal standpoint — by attracting 7.7 million fans to Riverfront Stadium, including over 2 million in each of the last 2 seasons.

With those vital accomplishments behind her, Mrs. Schott has one major goal still remaining squarely in her sights. That, of course, is the return of post-season play to Cincinnati. She, like all other Reds' fans, is thirsty for some championship champagne and the excitement of a World Series.

There was a taste of that glitter last summer when the Reds hosted the All-Star game, which was not only a highly successful sports event, but which raised about $190,000, through Mrs. Schott's direction, for the Children's Zoo in Cincinnati.

Providing Reds' fans with quality entertainment has been her top priority during her tenure as owner of the Reds. Mrs. Schott, a native and sixth generation resident of Cincinnati, had been a Limited Partner in the team since 1981 and then became the General Partner of the ownership group on Dec. 21, 1984. She became President and Chief Executive Officer on July 8, 1985.

In addition to the enjoyment of watching the Reds on the field, Mrs. Schott has had some thrills away from the Stadium as well. Two of them came in 1988. She was saluted by Savvy Magazine as the operator of one of the 40 largest businesses in the country to be headed by a woman. She also had a feature interview with Morley Safer on the highly regarded "60 Minutes" TV show.

In Dec., 1986, she was among 85 women entrepreneurs from all over the country who were honored by President Ronald Reagan at a White House reception. Earlier that year, she was named Woman of the Year by the American Legion Auxiliary at its national convention. Mrs. Schott was singled out for having made significant contributions to community life. Last December, she was inducted into the Communiplex Women's Hall of Fame for women in sports.

Mrs. Schott was inducted into the Ohio Women's Hall of Fame in Nov., 1985, for her achievements in business, industry and athletics. A year earlier, she was honored as one of the 1984 Women of the Year in Cincinnati, cited for her avid support of the arts, as a philanthropist to many organizations and as a trustee for several colleges. She is well-known for her role as hostess for the Reds' Rally, a major fund-raiser for the Children's Heart Association at Children's Hospital and for her work with the famed Cincinnati Zoo.

Mrs. Schott became a businesswoman by necessity when her husband, Charles, died in 1968, leaving her in charge of a business empire that included such divergent holdings as an auto agency, cement, truck and brick companies and real estate holdings. She has since added holdings of her own.

It took her 2½ years to convince General Motors to make her the first U.S. woman ever to be awarded a major metropolitan area G.M. dealership. Later, she became the first woman ever named to the board of trustees of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

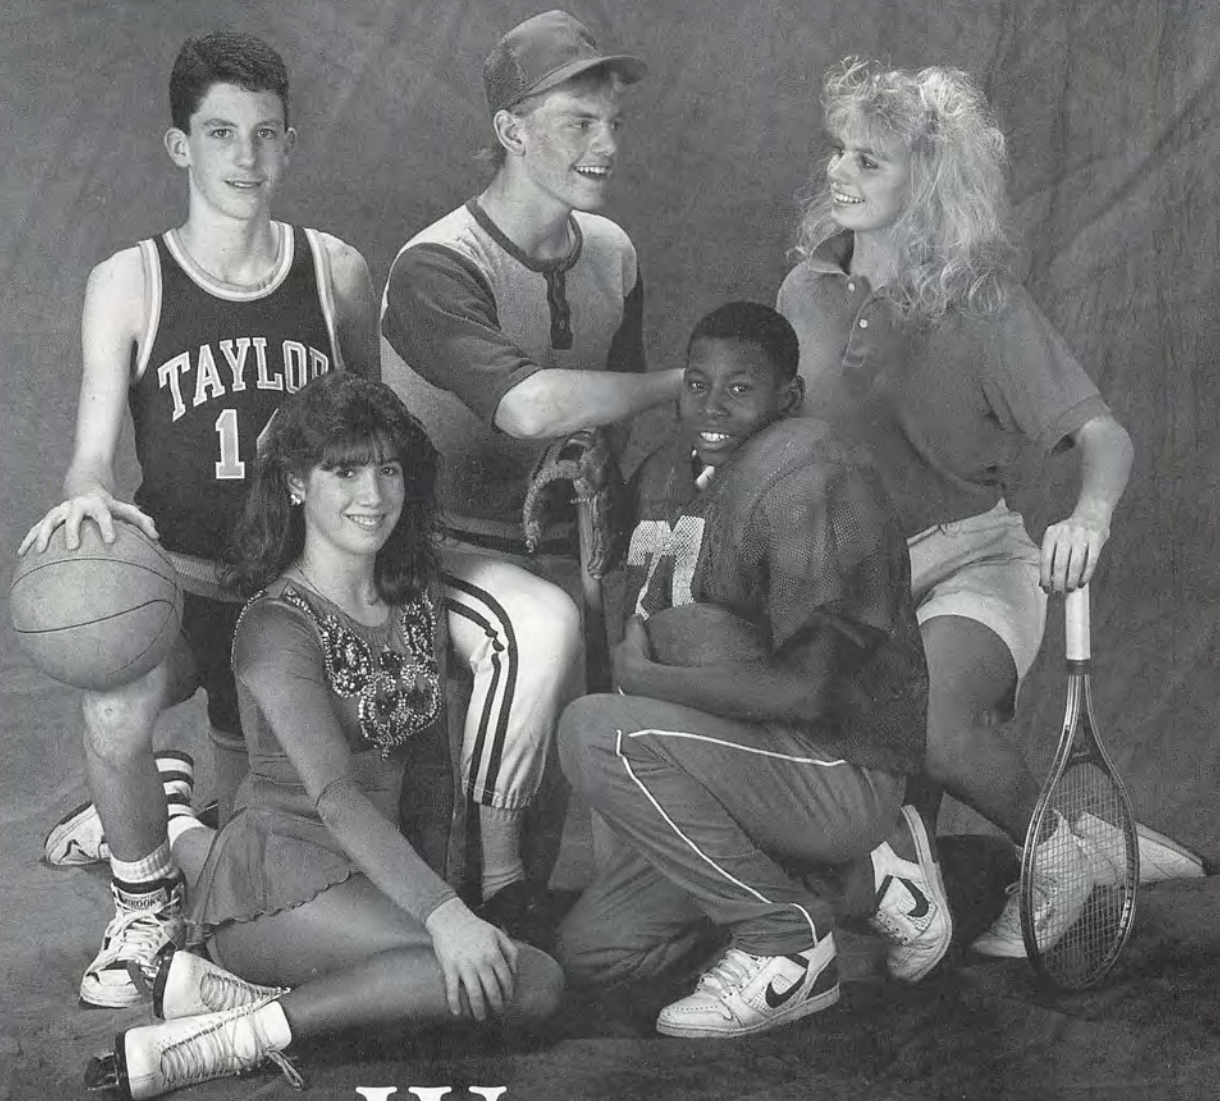

Mrs. Schott is one of only three women currently involved in primary ownership of a major league baseball team, joining Mrs. Joan Kroc of the San Diego Padres and Mrs. Jean Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox, who took over their teams on the death of their husbands.

Mrs. Schott visits with President George Bush and First Lady Barbara Bush.

Reds Broadcasting

Reds on Radio: Marty Brennaman & Joe Nuxhall

TV Voices: Johnny Bench & Thom Brennaman

Marty Brennaman and Joe Nuxhall return for their 16th season together on the Reds Radio Network, while Johnny Bench is joined by Thom Brennaman on the Reds Television Network.

Marty Brennaman, Sportscaster of the Year in Ohio seven times after earning that honor four times in Virginia, joined the Reds broadcast team in 1974. Nuxhall, a former Cincinnati pitcher and a member of the Reds Hall of Fame, is in his 23rd year as a Reds announcer. Bench, elected this year to the Baseball Hall of Fame, is in his third season on Reds TV. Thom Brennaman (Marty's son), weekend sports anchor at WLWT and morning sportscaster on WLW Radio, is in his first full season on Reds telecasts after working several games in 1988.

The Reds Radio Network, one of the largest in professional sports, has affiliates in seven states. The flagship station is WLW (700 AM) in Cincinnati. All regular season games and most pre-season games are aired on WLW and the Reds Radio Network.

WLWT-TV (Channel 5 in Cincinnati) holds the television rights to Reds games and is the flagship station for the Reds TV Network.

Hello Cooperstown!

Johnny Bench New Hall of Famer

Johnny Bench, generally considered to be the greatest catcher who ever played the game, reached the pinnacle of his career this year when he was voted into the Baseball Hall of Fame. The official induction ceremonies take place on July 23 in Cooperstown, NY.

Bench received a vote total appropriate for his stature. He received 431 of the 447 ballots cast by veteran members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. The percentage (96.4) was the third highest in the history of Hall of Fame voting, trailing only Ty Cobb (98.2%) and Henry Aaron (97.8%).

Johnny becomes the first member of the powerful Reds teams of the 1970s to make it to Cooperstown. Those teams won 6 Western Division titles, 4 National League pennants and back-to-back World Championships in 1975-76. He also made it to the Hall in his first year of eligibility, achieved by just 19 players. He retired at the end of the 1983 season.

He was known for his power hitting, but even more so for his prowess behind the plate, where he took defensive play for catchers to a new level. Bench not only had a powerful throwing arm, but invented the one-handed catching style.

After spending his entire professional baseball career in the Reds' organization, Johnny's association with the ballclub continues today as a member of the Reds TV Network broadcast team.

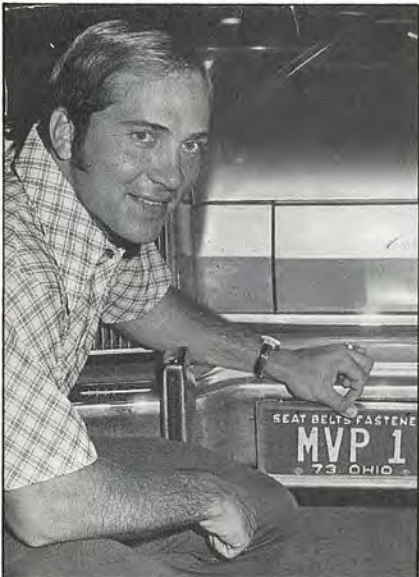

RECORD-SETTING HOMER. Bench hits his 314th career HR as a catcher, breaking Yogi Berra's big league record of 313. The homer came on July 15, 1980 at Riverfront off Montreal's David Palmer.

AWARD-WINNING CATCHER. Bench won 10 Gold Gloves for his defensive excellence.

LEAGUE'S FINEST. Bench earned National League MVP honors in 1970 & 1972.

ONE LAST TIME. Bench thrilled the capacity crowd on Johnny Bench Night at Riverfront—Sept. 17, 1983—with this HR off Houston's Mike Madden. It was the 389th and final HR of Johnny's career.

VODKA DRINKERS DEFECT TO RUM.

If we flat-out claimed that rum and tonic makes a better drink than vodka and tonic, you'd think we were biased.

Which is why we commissioned a "blind" taste test among vodka and tonic drinkers.

We asked them to choose between the best selling vodka and a selection of rums from Puerto Rico.

Each was mixed with tonic. But did that make things truly equal? Ours, after all, was a less familiar taste. Theirs was a tradition.

Yet, fully 47%—almost half—preferred rum and tonic to the tried-and-true vodka and tonic.

We assume that's because the rums of Puerto Rico, which are aged by law for one year, have a warmer, more alive character than vodka.

What else could explain such a defection?

Riverfront Stadium

Riverfront Stadium has been the home of the Cincinnati Reds since June 30, 1970, when the Reds hosted the Atlanta Braves.

That first game at Riverfront followed more than two years of construction. The stadium was built for an estimated $40,000,000 and was financed through revenue bonds issued by Hamilton County and backed by the City of Cincinnati.

Riverfront was the first stadium with AstroTurf on nearly all of the baseball diamond, with only sliding areas around the bases, the pitcher's mound, batter's box and outfield warning tracks not covered by the artificial turf.

The original AstroTurf surface was replaced prior to the 1979 season and the present AstroTurf-8 surface was installed before the 1988 season. AstroTurf-8 allows water to flow through to a drainage system and virtually eliminates standing water, making the field playable minutes after a rain. A synthetic warning track was also installed in 1988.

A flood wall protects against high water from the Ohio River up to 78 feet deep. In case of a flood, entrances can be sealed off so flood waters would be in garages, but the playing field, locker rooms, etc. would be dry.

Seating capacity for baseball is 52,392.

Advance Ticket Window

Tickets for all home games are on sale inside the stadium at the Advance Ticket Window, on the Green Level behind aisle 204 before, during and after all home games. The Reds' computerized ticket system enables you to get the best available seats at the time of your purchase (with no service charge).

Alcohol Policy

The consumption of alcohol on Riverfront Stadium property (including inside motor vehicles) directly before, during and after Reds games is prohibited by law, unless it is purchased from Sportservice and consumed within the stadium. Removal of alcoholic beverages from inside the stadium is prohibited. Please don't drink and drive!

Autographs

Fans may seek players' autographs from the Blue Level seating area along the railing near the dugouts and field from the time the gates open until the end of batting practice. Fans with tickets from the Green, Yellow or Red Levels may "exchange" their tickets at the Green Level Customer Service Desk for an autograph pass. At the completion of batting practice, fans should turn in their autograph passes at the Green Level Customer Service Desk and have their tickets returned to them. (On certain special occasions, this practice will be suspended.) Players are not available for autographs after batting practice or between games of doubleheaders.

Banners

Banners and signs are welcome at Riverfront. They must be in good taste and they may not be hung or displayed on any part of the playing field or in any way that obstructs the view of anyone in the stands. An ideal location is the facade of the Green or Red seats, which can accommodate a four-foot deep banner. Banners cannot interfere with the sightline of the batter (the gray background behind the center field wall), the pitcher or umpire looking down the foul line. Reds management reserves the right to remove any banner or sign that is viewed to be in bad taste or is causing an obstruction.

Cameras

Fans are encouraged to take photos of their favorite Reds at Riverfront. Tripods, monopods, standing in the aisles or otherwise obstructing the view of others is not permitted.

Carry-In Items

No cans, bottles or alcoholic beverages are permitted to be brought into the stadium. Plastic or thermos containers are permitted in the stadium, providing they can fit comfortably under a seat. To ensure the safety of fans, players and employees, carry-in items are subject to inspection.

Customer Relations Hotline

The Reds' Customer Relations Hotline is available Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for fans' questions and comments regarding the Reds' stadium policies, services and facilities. Call (513) 421-7887.

Customer Service Desks

If you have a question or a problem that your usher can't help you with, please stop by one of the Customer Service Desks—on the Blue Level behind aisle 103, on the Green Level behind aisles 206 and 232 and on the Red Level behind aisle 350.

Emergency Phone Calls

Doctors and others expecting emergency phone calls should leave their seat locations at the Customer Service Desk on the Green Level behind aisle 206. Paging is not permitted.

Employees

The Reds are proud of the courtesy and efficiency of their employees. All Reds employees wear name tags with an identification number prominently displayed. Sportservice employees also wear badges with their identification number. Any comments about employees should be directed to one of the Customer Service Desks.

Escalators

Two escalators inside the stadium serve fans going through Gates 3 and 11, serving from the Green up to the Yellow and Red. Also, four sets of escalators serve the parking garage from the outside Plaza.

Evacuation

It is very unlikely that fans will need to evacuate the stadium. However, if the need arises, please exit the seating area immediately upon request and proceed calmly and orderly to the nearest stadium gate or follow the directions of Reds personnel. Once you have exited safely, you will be instructed on where to proceed. Reds management strongly suggests that you familiarize yourself with the locations of stadium exits. If you have any questions or are in need of directions, please see your Reds usher or visit any of the Customer Service Desks.

First Aid Rooms

Three first aid rooms are in the stadium—on the Blue Level behind aisle 104, on the Green behind aisle 250 and the Red behind aisle 324. If you are unable to go to a first aid room, please inform any Reds employee, who will have the medical staff respond to your location. (In emergencies only)

Gates Open

Riverfront Stadium gates open 90 minutes before game time.

Ground Rules

Anyone who ventures onto the playing field or into a restricted area, throws objects or interferes with a ball in play will be prosecuted.

Lost and Found

If you've lost something, or found something somebody lost, please go to a Customer Service Desk.

Movement Between Levels

Each level of the stadium is designed to accommodate a certain number of fans comfortably. Therefore, to avoid overcrowding, movement between levels is restricted.

Novelty Stands

Novelty and souvenir stands are located throughout the stadium and on the Plaza. Permanent stands are located at aisles 150 & 113 on the Blue; 245, 232 & 218 on the Green; and near 359 & 307 on the Red. There are also several more souvenir stands on the Red, plus eight novelty stands on the outside Plaza.

Parking

There is plenty of parking at and near the stadium. Three levels of the parking garage can accommodate 3,180 cars, while the Plaza Level has additional spaces for 100 buses and vans. Another 1,819 cars can be parked on surface lots to the east and west of Riverfront. Within a 12-block radius of the stadium, there are enough facilities to handle about 20,000 cars. There are 32 parking spaces on the plaza for handicapped persons. Rates for games are $4.00 in the garage and $3.00 on the surface lots. Parking for buses, campers and vans on the Plaza Level costs $12.00 per vehicle.

Pass Out Checks/Exiting the Stadium

Once you have exited the stadium, you will not be permitted to re-enter without another ticket. Pass out checks are only issued in emergency situations. If it becomes necessary for you to leave the stadium, please visit any of the Customer Service Desks.

Plaza Parking

While purchasing tickets in advance, fans may park free on the Plaza until two hours before game time. The bus/taxi ramp leading to the Plaza is accessible from Main and Sycamore Streets (between Third and Fourth Streets) in downtown Cincinnati.

Radar Speed Pitch

Fans can test their throwing arms on the Hardee's Radar Speed Pitch, located behind aisle 237 on the Green Level. Fans get three throws and receive a certificate noting their fastest throw. The Radar Speed Pitch is the same equipment used by Reds scouts and by the TV networks. It is open before and during games.

Rain Checks

If a game is postponed due to rain before it is officially completed, the Reds will exchange rain checks for tickets to a future regular season home game this season, subject to availability. Rain checks may be exchanged at Riverfront Stadium, the Gift Shop at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in downtown Cincinnati or by mail. See the back of the ticket for more information. If a game is postponed, fans will be promptly notified via the stadium public address system and scoreboard.

Safety

Please do not lean over any stadium railing or guide wire or stand on any stadium seat. Failure to observe this rule could result in serious injury to you or another person.

Scoreboard/Video Board

Riverfront Stadium, already home of one of the largest scoreboards in the country, added a 32' x 24' Sony JumboTRON color video replay board during the 1987 season as part of a 5.2 million dollar reconstruction of the entire scoreboard system. A production crew, ranging from nine to 11 members, operates the video board and scoreboard system from a control room that rivals that of a TV studio.

Taxi Service

Taxi service after Reds games is available on the west side of the Plaza. If you need assistance, please go to a Customer Service Desk. Please don't drink and drive!

Ticket Information

Information on Reds tickets may be found on page 115 of this Reds Yearbook/Program and at the stadium's Advance Ticket Window, on the Green Level behind aisle 204.

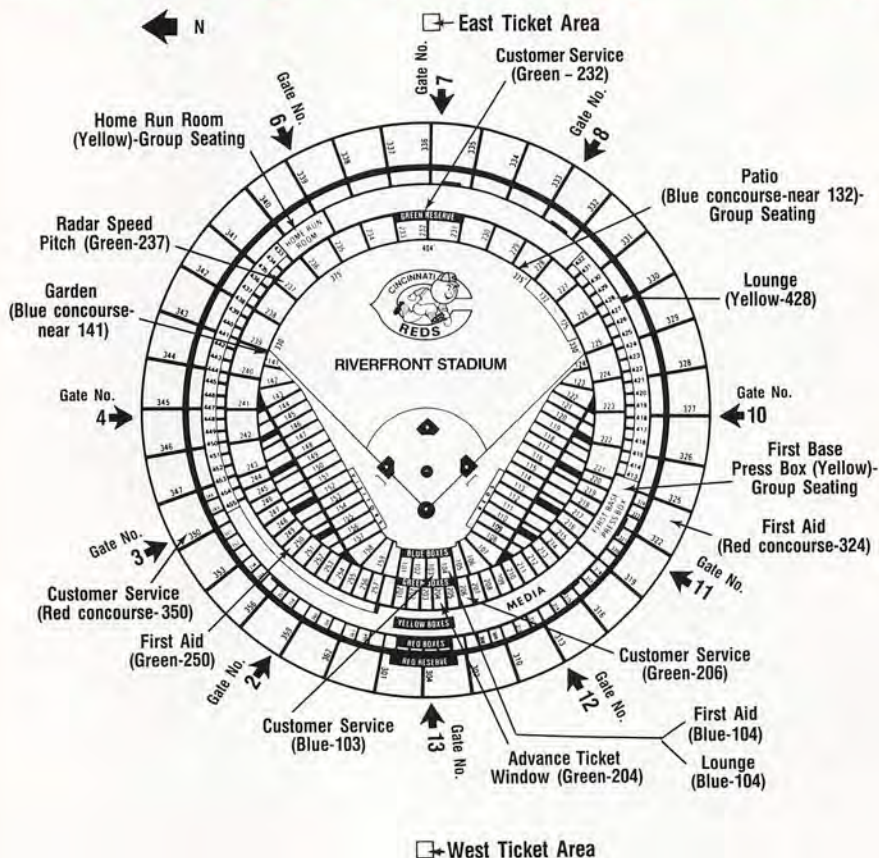

Unauthorized Sales

Unauthorized individuals selling or soliciting tickets or merchandise on the stadium plaza or inside the stadium are subject to arrest and removal from the premises.

Wheel Chair Locations

Wheel chair locations are available on the Green Level and Blue Level. Please consult the Reds Ticket Office for details.

STOP SIGN

There are many reasons you may think of stopping when you see our sign.

The most obvious, of course, is its color.

But there's a lot more to consider.

Our Home Style Meat Loaf served under a delicately seasoned brown gravy.

Chicken 'N Noodles simmered with fresh garden vegetables.

Country Fried Steak in a hearty country gravy.

We've got a dozen new dinners.

And if the selection doesn't stop you, the price will.

Because seven of those dinners cost less than five dollars.

So drop on by anytime. Where?

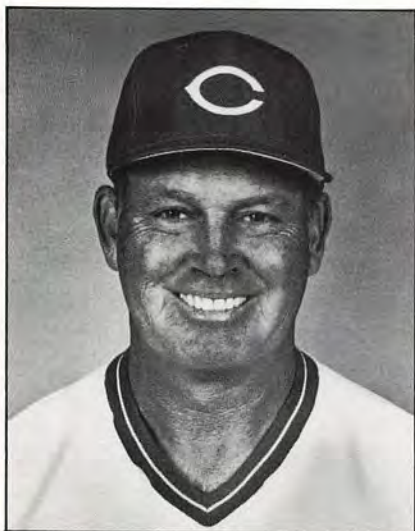

Just stop when you see our sign.

Just a few smiles from home.®

Scott Breeden

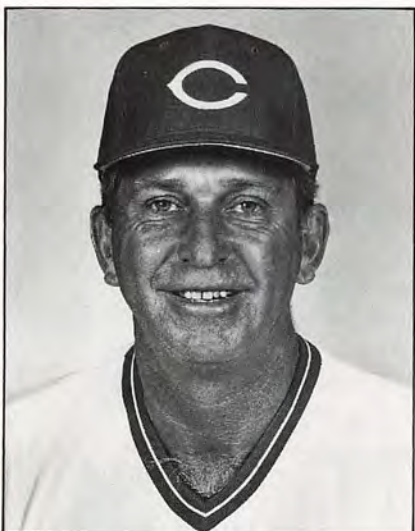

Scott Breeden is in his fourth season as the Reds' pitching coach at the major league level, after serving as a pitching instructor in the Cincinnati farm system for 16 of the previous 18 years (1968-81, 84-85). As a player, Scott signed into the Brooklyn Dodgers' organization in 1956 and pitched in the minor leagues for 12 seasons, including six at the Class AAA level. He pitched a no-hitter for Kokomo in the Midwest League in 1958 on his way to a 17-5 record. When he retired as a player in 1967, Breeden managed the Reds' Wytheville farm club in the rookie Appalachian League for one season, then became a pitching instructor.

Dave Bristol

Dave Bristol returns to the Reds as the team's new third base coach. Bristol began his professional baseball career in the Cincinnati organization as a minor league infielder in 1951. He later managed in the Reds' farm system, before moving up to the big leagues as a coach in 1966. Midway through the '66 season, he was named Reds' manager, replacing Don Heffner. Bristol managed the Reds through the 1969 season, compiling an overall record of 298-265. He later managed the Brewers, Braves and Giants and was a coach for the Expos, Giants and Phillies.

Tommy Helms

Tommy Helms has been a Reds' coach since 1983. He was the first base coach from 1983-85 and moved into the dugout to assist Manager Pete Rose in 1986. The former big league infielder played 14 years in the major leagues, including six full seasons with the Reds, starting in 1966, when he was named National League Rookie of the Year as a third baseman. Tommy switched to second base the next year and won Gold Glove awards for defensive excellence at that position in 1970 and 1971. As a Red, Helms played in the '67 and '68 All-Star games and was a member of the 1970 N.L. championship team. After leaving the Reds, he played for Houston (1972-75), Pittsburgh (1976-77) and Boston (1977) and coached with Texas (1981). Helms was elected to the Reds Hall of Fame in 1979.

A 1973 graduate of the University of Kentucky, Lett played baseball and football for UK.

Lee May

Lee May is in his second season as the Reds' first base coach. May spent the first 11 years of his pro career in the Cincinnati organization, including five seasons (1967-71) as the Reds' regular first baseman. He later played three years for Houston; six years for Baltimore; and two for Kansas City. May had 20 or more homers and 80 or more RBIs for 11 straight seasons (1968-78) and led the A.L. with 109 RBIs in 1976. A three-time All-Star, "The Big Bopper" hit 354 career homers and drove in 1,244 runs. Tony's 379 career homers tied Orlando Cepeda for the major league record among players from Latin-America and his 1,652 RBIs are tops among Latin-Americans. A first baseman during most of his career, Tony ranked among the Reds' All-Time Top Five in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, homers, extra base hits, total bases and RBIs when he retired. This One Belongs To Reds Radio

By JOHN KIESEWETTER

Of all the great Cincinnati baseball combinations—Davis and Daniels, Rose and Bench, Robinson and Pinson—nothing can match the greatest duo of them all, the Reds and radio.

For the 60th consecutive year, Cincinnati Reds fans will find their Reds no farther away than a radio. From the dozen or so afternoon broadcasts on WSAI in 1930, through this season on more than 80 Reds Radio Network stations, fans have been able to follow their favorite players, from Lombardi to Larkin.

Chances are many Reds fans were introduced to the sport by radio broadcasts shared with a parent or grandparent.

"I think it probably makes a great impression on a kid who became exposed to the game the first time through radio. A kid's imagination is so vivid," says Marty Brennaman, who announces his 16th Reds season this year.

Close your eyes. See the Riverfront turf? See Eric Davis leap to snatch a home run ball above the fence? See Ron Oester turn a double play? Hear the voices of Marty and Joe?

The history of Cincinnati Reds radio is nearly as legendary as the franchise itself. When Powel Crosley Jr. bought the club in 1934, he was convinced by General Manager Larry MacPhail that radio would keep fans interested in the Reds when they were out of town. The Reds and radio. It was an obvious marriage to Crosley, who manufactured radios and owned two Cincinnati radio stations, WSAI and WLW.

But four years before Crosley bought the ballclub, in 1930, his WSAI began broadcasting Reds games. Bob Burdette and Sidney Ten-Eyck described the first Reds radio season—about a dozen games—from two front-row box seats. Burdette did the play-by-play; Ten-Eyck filled time between innings with recap, commentary and interviews.

The Reds on radio weren't easy to find that first season. Burdette and Ten-Eyck broadcast "about two games every homestand," says Ten-Eyck, later a narrator for the "Ma Perkins" soap opera. "They'd come to us and say, 'We're going to do the game next Friday. That was it.'"

"Sometimes we'd have to break away in the middle of a game for a half hour. We'd just say, 'We'll be right back after our regularly scheduled program.'"

From the beginning, Ten-Eyck realized that baseball and radio struck a deep, almost mystical, nerve in baseball fans. "My mother-in-law wouldn't even allow anyone to talk in the house when the game was on," recalls Ten-Eyck, 84, who also assisted baseball announcer Harry Hartman from 1931-1933 on WFBE-AM (later called WCPO, WUBE-AM and WDJO).

And it was clear that Reds radio was a hit with ballplayers, too.

"We had on Dizzy Dean and Leo Durocher. They'd crouch down in front of our box seats on the field. It wasn't any problem getting players on the broadcast. The problem was getting them off."

After Crosley bought the club, a young sportscaster named Walter Lanier Barber from the University of Florida was offered the Reds radio job on WLW. It was the first professional broadcasting step for "Red" Barber, whose career would take him from Crosley Field to Cooperstown's Baseball Hall of Fame.

"When I did Opening Day in Cincinnati in '34, that was the first professional baseball game I had ever done," Barber recalls. In five Cincinnati seasons, Barber described several historic Reds' events from his "catbird seat," such as major league baseball's first night game (at Crosley Field) and the first of Johnny Vander Meer's back-to-back no-hitters.

During homestands, Barber broadcast noon interviews from the ballpark. But when the Pirates checked into the Sinton Hotel early in the '34 season, Manager George Gibson rudely refused Barber's interview request. After Gibson left the lobby, a Pirate player approached Barber, apologized for his field boss, and volunteered to chat on the radio. His name was Waite Hoyt.

In 1942, Hoyt asked Barber to return the favor. The retired pitcher had just been offered the Cincinnati Reds radio play-by-play job. The favor? He asked Barber to teach him how to score a game for his broadcasts.

Once in the booth above Crosley Field's grandstand, Hoyt established himself as the voice—if not the soul—of the Cincinnati Reds. In 24 years, from 1942-65, the Hall of Fame pitcher became famous for his marvelous stories. His rain-delay monologues about his big league exploits, or those of pal Babe Ruth, were eventually recorded and sold as two record albums.

Jack Moran, Hoyt's partner from 1955-61, remembers how he'd silently slip Hoyt statistics as he launched into a rainy night narrative. "I'd feed him the stuff, and he'd go on and on. You couldn't stop him."

Hoyt retired in 1965 when Burger Beer, his long-time sponsor, lost Reds radio rights. He died in 1984.

Until the advent of television in the early 1950s, radio broadcasters didn't travel on the road with the team. Instead, they remained at home in the radio studio and broadcast the play-by-play from cryptic Western Union telegraph dispatches. They called them "re-creations."

Everyone did it. Barber, Hoyt, Moran. Even a popular Iowa sportscaster named Ronald "Dutch" Reagan, who later became a famous actor and even more famous U.S. President.

"We made people think—even though THEY KNEW we weren't there—we made people think we were at the ballpark," Moran says.

In THE BROADCASTERS, Barber describes the art of re-creating a baseball game from WLW's studio: "Western Union sent a skeletal outline—Lombardi up. B1L (for ball one low). S1C (strike one called). Out. High fly to short right.

Mungo coming in to pitch for Brooklyn. Frey up. B1W (ball one wide). DP (double play). Reese to Herman to Camilli."

Barber, relying on his mental pictures, enhanced the bare-bones details this way: "The next batter is Old Schnozz, Ernie Lombardi. A big towering, right-handed batter. He takes his stance with his back foot close to the catcher . . . Lom is hitting against a seven man outfield. He is the slowest runner in the league, so all four infielders are playing back on the outfield grass. The defense is around into left. He always pulls the ball. How he won the batting title last year when he never gets a leg hit, I'll never know. Everything he hits has to be sharp, clean, and into a hole or over the fence.

"Lombardi sets. Pumps the big bat. Takes the pitch. It's wide for ball one. Lom goes down and gets a handful of dirt, rubs his hands together, throws the dirt away. Gets in again. One ball, no strikes. One out in the fourth inning. No score."

Hoyt and Moran re-created the road games in 1955, Moran's rookie season in the Reds radio booth. (Starting in 1956, they traveled with the team, he says.) Moran came to Cincinnati with recorded sound effects to enliven his re-created ball games.

"I had crowd noise, and the crack of the bat, and the sounds of vendors selling hot dogs and beer and popcorn. But Waite didn't believe in using sound effects. He said, 'No, people know I'm sitting in a studio reading from a ticker.' So Reds fans never heard my sound effects."

In spring of 1967, just 18 months after Hoyt retired, pitcher Joe Nuxhall rounded third for the final time and headed for the Reds radio booth with Jim McIntyre and Claude Sullivan.

This season marks his 23rd year as a Reds broadcaster, one year shy of matching Hoyt's tenure.

"Everyone concedes that Pete Rose is a living legend in this town. Joe Nuxhall is no less a living legend," says Brennaman, who joined Joe in 1974 (after Nux had spent three seasons, 1971-73, with future ABC sportscaster Al Michaels). This season is the 16th for Marty and Joe, second in duration among major league radio partners (behind the Cardinals' Jack Buck and Mike Shannon).

While Brennaman always had dreamed of a radio baseball career, Nux had never given it much thought. His home run cheer—"Get outta here! Get outta here!"—is a carryover from his days on the dugout bench. His trademark—"The old lefthander, rounding third and heading for home"—was contributed by former Reds coach Whitey Wietelmann, much to Nuxhall's dismay. He dropped it after 10 days. The mail poured in. "I guess they like it. It's really neat," he says.

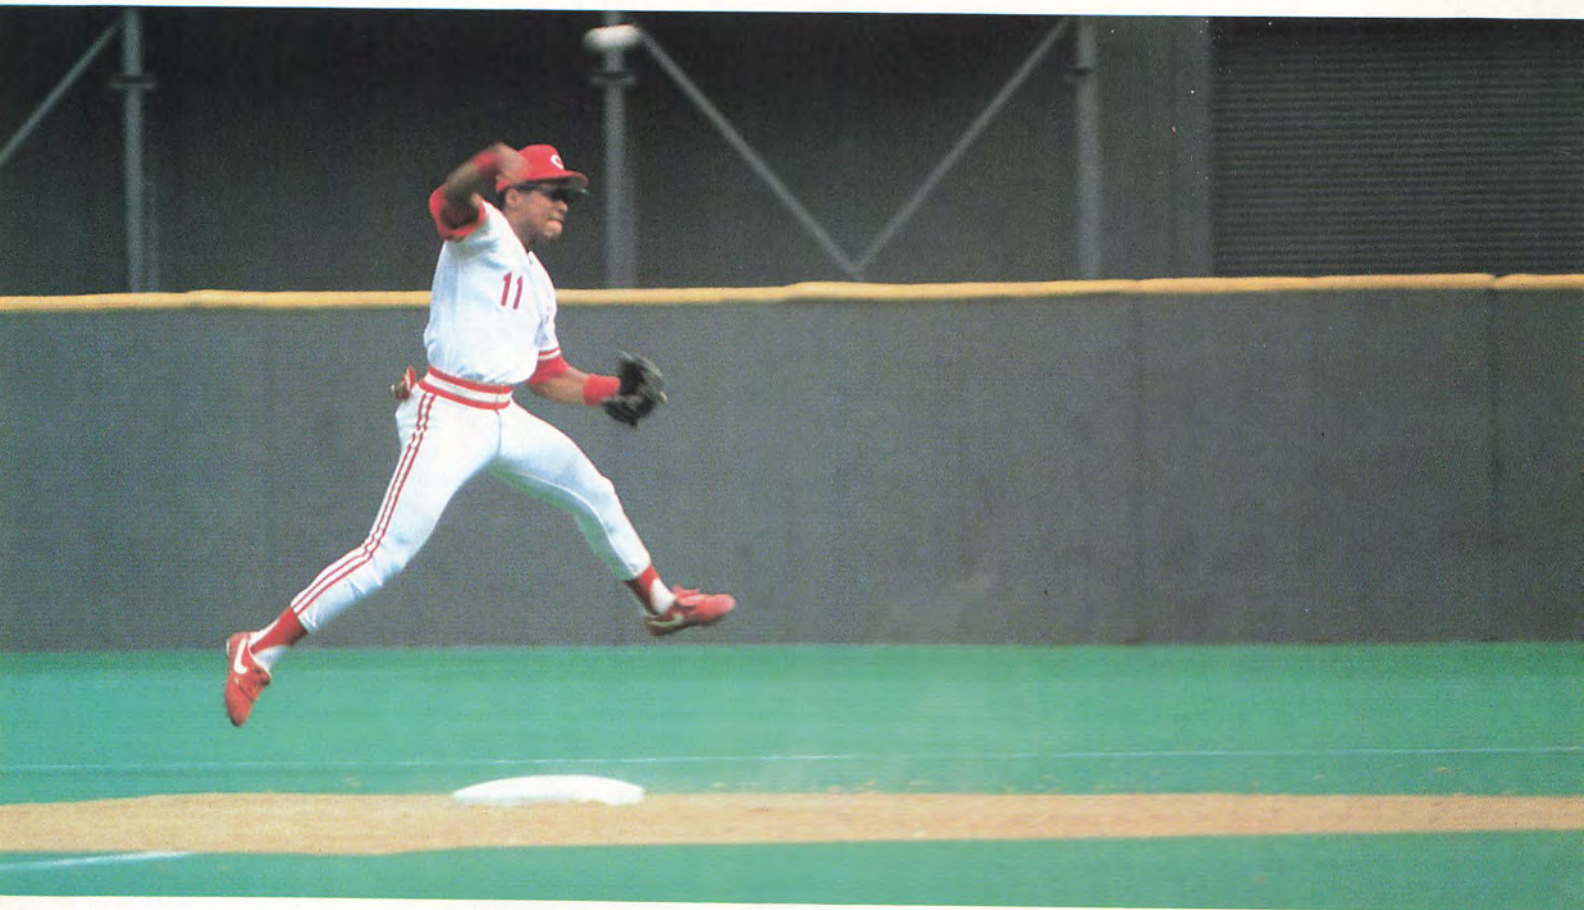

It's that constant flow of fan mail which reminds Marty and Joe that they're the eyes and ears of thousands of regular Reds listeners. "There is an unbelievable loyalty by baseball fans to not only their team, but to their baseball broadcasters," Brennaman says. "If ever there was a sport made for radio, it was baseball. There's definitely an intimacy there."

Marty and Joe. The Reds and radio. A couple of terrific combinations.

Hardee's Speed Pitch Competition

You can test your throwing arm on the Hardee's Radar Speed Pitch behind aisle 237 on the Green Level. You get three throws and receive a certificate noting your fastest pitch.

Male and female participants may compete in the following (fastest pitch) age groups: 9 years old & under; 10-12 years old; 13-15 years old; 16 & over. To enter the competition, just fill out an entry blank after you throw. Prizes for the top 3 speeds will be awarded during the final competition, which will be held prior to the Reds-Astros game on Saturday, September 30 at Riverfront.

The Radar Speed Pitch is the same equipment used by Reds scouts and by the TV networks. It is open before and during games.

SuperRx Senior Citizen Specials

The Reds and SuperRx Drug Stores are again sponsoring Senior Citizen Specials in 1989. Fans age 65 and over may purchase box and reserve seat tickets at half-price in advance of game day.

IBM Tale of the Tape

The IBM Tale of the Tape is a home run distance program conducted throughout the season adding excitement and interest in this new (but unofficial) baseball statistic.

When a Reds player hits a home run, the estimated distance the ball traveled will be displayed on the scoreboard. Throughout the year, fans will be informed of the Reds' three longest homers at Riverfront this season.

This program will culminate with the presentation of a $10,000 check by the Reds and IBM to support programs treating children with cancer at the Charles M. Barrett Cancer Center.

Perfect!

Tom Browning Joins Baseball Elite

By JON BRAUDE

It was a masterpiece. A work of art. A gem.

Each of those superlatives could apply to Tom Browning's pitching performance on September 16, 1988 at Riverfront Stadium.

But baseball's own terminology says it best: PERFECT.

Browning pitched the first perfect game in the history of baseball's oldest franchise, the Cincinnati Reds, as the Reds defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers, 1-0. The Cincinnati left-hander became only the 14th pitcher in major league history, and just the third in National League history, to throw a perfect game of 9 or more innings.

It was the first no-hitter by a Reds pitcher since Tom Seaver no-hit St. Louis on June 16, 1978 at Riverfront. And while a no-hitter is a tremendous accomplishment, a perfect game is the ultimate pitching achievement. After all, you can't top perfection.

Browning's perfect game came on a night that was anything but perfect. The start of the game was delayed two hours and 27 minutes by rain. But the Reds' pitcher made the wait both worthwhile and memorable for those among the 16,591 fans who were able to stay around and see Browning strike out pinch-hitter Tracy Woodson for the final out at 11:53 p.m. The game took only an hour and 51 minutes to play.

Browning made it look easy as he retired all 27 Los Angeles batters. His control was, naturally, perfect. He struck out seven Dodgers and never went beyond a two-ball count on any batter.

While Browning mowed down the Dodgers, L.A. right-hander Tim Lincecum held the Reds hitless until Barry Larkin doubled with two outs in the bottom of the sixth inning. Larkin then scored the game's only run on Chris Sabo's infield single and a throwing error by third baseman Jeff Hamilton.

That one run was all Browning needed. When he headed for the pitcher's mound to begin the dramatic ninth inning, Reds players and fans couldn't help but recall that earlier in the season — May 2 at Riverfront — Ron Robinson came within one strike of pitching a perfect game against Montreal before giving up a pinch-hit single to Wallace Johnson.

HE DID IT. Catcher Jeff Reed and second baseman Ron Oester were the first to greet Browning after the final out.

Browning also had experienced similar disappointment, when he came within two outs of pitching a no-hitter on June 6 in San Diego. A Tony Gwynn single spoiled that no-hit bid and Tom finished with his second career one-hitter.

But this remarkable pitching performance vs. Los Angeles was not to be tarnished. Browning started the final inning by retiring Rick Dempsey on a fly out to Paul O'Neill in right field. Then Steve Sax hit a ground ball up the middle that shortstop Larkin fielded and threw to first baseman Nick Esasky for the second out.

Dodgers' manager Tom Lasorda sent in the rookie Woodson to pinch-hit for Belcher. The count went to two balls and two strikes before Browning fired strike three past the swinging Woodson. The celebration began.

Browning was mobbed by his teammates and then by reporters. He handled all the attention like he pitched the game — perfectly.

Over the final two weeks of the season, Browning would tell his perfect game story to hundreds of interviewers. He obliged countless autograph seekers, including his teammates and even Dodgers' pitcher Belcher.

Reds' President Marge Schott presented a fur coat to Browning's wife, Debbie, and a specially inscribed watch to perfect game catcher Jeff Reed.

Ticket stubs and scorecards from that September 16 game have become collector's items. Browning had ensured his special place in baseball history.

During his four-plus seasons in the major leagues, Browning has enjoyed some other noteworthy highlights. He won 20 games as a rookie in 1985. He was the starting and winning pitcher (2-0 over San Diego) when Pete Rose set baseball's all-time career hits record with hit number 4,192. And he came so very close to pitching a no-hitter in San Diego.

But nothing can top his performance on September 16, 1988. On that night, he was PERFECT.

Perfect Games—Nine Or More Innings

Fourteen perfect games have been pitched in major championship play including one in the 1956 World Series by Don Larsen of the New York Yankees and Harvey Haddix' 12-inning effort for Pittsburgh in 1959. ‡Shore's performance is classified as a perfect game even though he did not start the game. George (Babe) Ruth, Boston's starting pitcher, was removed by Umpire Clarence (Brick) Owens after giving a base on balls to Ray Morgan, the first batter. Shore, without warming up, took Ruth's place. Morgan was retired trying to steal second. From then on, Shore faced 26 batters, with none reaching base.

We've never been one to seek change just for the sake of change, but in our two centuries of brewing, we've had our share of classic packages.

Wooden casks fashioned from French oak. Long amber bottles with cork stoppers. Even a more luxurious model with a porcelain stopper.

And now we're pleased to introduce you to our latest. One that we believe reflects even more of the 214 years of our Stroh family heritage and brewing tradition.

We hope you like it, since we don't plan on making another change for at least the next century.

How to Score

Number Players As Follows:

1—Pitcher; 2—Catcher; 3—First Baseman; 4—Second Baseman; 5—Third Baseman; 6—Shortstop; 7—Left Fielder; 8—Center Fielder; 9—Right Fielder.

Every time a batter goes to the plate, use the numbers to indicate how he was retired or how he reached base.

Fielding plays retiring batters or runners also call for use of the numbers. For instance, the batter who grounds out to the shortstop is retired 6-3 in your scoring. If he flies to the right fielder, merely use the figure 9. If it is foul: 9F.

The lower left hand corner of the scoring block should be considered as home plate. Progress is counter-clockwise with progress to first base indicated in lower right hand corner, to second in upper right hand corner, to third in upper left hand corner, and to home in lower left.

Big League Bound

Reds Honor Minor League Most Valuable Players

The Cincinnati Reds' farm system is one of the most successful in major league baseball. Reds' farm teams have posted combined winning records in each of the last five years. The Cincinnati farm system is also one of baseball's most productive, turning out numerous big leaguers, including many of the players on the Reds' current major league roster.

Each year, the Reds and Anheuser-Busch honor the Most Valuable Players from the Reds' six farm teams. The 1988 farm MVPs were Van Snider, Nashville outfielder; Chris Hammond, Chattanooga pitcher; Butch Henry, Cedar Rapids pitcher; Kevin Pearson, Greensboro infielder/outfielder; Ben Colvard, Billings outfielder; and Victor Garcia, Gulf Coast League Reds pitcher.

Snider led the Class AAA American Association in home runs with 23, while hitting .290 for Nashville with 22 doubles, 8 triples and 73 RBIs. He topped all full-season players in the Cincinnati farm system in both batting average and homers in his first year in the organization. The lefthanded-hitting Snider came to the Reds from Kansas City in the February, 1988, trade for pitcher Jeff Montgomery.

Hammond was 16-5 with a sparkling 1.72 ERA for Class AA Southern League champion Chattanooga. His ERA was the best among all Class AA pitchers and he shared the AA lead in victories. The lefthander was the Reds' No. 6 draft choice in January, 1986, out of the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

Henry posted a spectacular 16-2 record with a 2.26 ERA for the Class A Midwest League champion Cedar Rapids Reds. He ranked 2nd in the league in wins; 3rd in strikeouts with 163 (in 187 innings); and 5th in ERA. A lefthander out of Eastwood High School in El Paso, TX, Henry was the Reds' No. 15 draft choice in June, 1987.

Pearson hit .285 with 29 doubles, 8 homers and 72 RBIs for Greensboro, who won the Class A South Atlantic League 2nd half Northern Division championship. He ranked 7th in the league in batting. A righthanded hitter, Pearson was the Reds' No. 8 draft choice in June, 1986, out of the University of Oklahoma.

Colvard, a righthanded hitter, ranked 2nd in the rookie Pioneer League with a .387 batting average. He hit 7 homers with 10 doubles, 47 RBIs and 18 stolen bases in 51 games for Billings in his first season of pro ball. Colvard was the Reds' No. 17 draft choice last June out of Southeastern Oklahoma State.

Garcia was 4-4 with a 2.12 ERA in 13 games/all starts for the Gulf Coast League Reds. The righthander signed as a free agent out of the Dominican Republic in 1988.

The Reds' farm system MVP awards have been given annually since 1977. The winners, from 1977 through 1988, include 26 players who have played in the major leagues.

S-10 4x4. MORE AVAILABLE POWER THAN FORD. PLUS STANDARD INSTA-TRAC.

Let us throw some numbers at you: 160 HP, 230 pounds of torque. Or 14% more horsepower, 35% more torque than Ranger can offer you. From the biggest engine with the most V6 horsepower, torque and towing power available in a compact 4x4.

That's what's waiting for you underhood a Chevy S-10 with available 4.3L V6. And to keep you out front, S-10's standard Insta-Trac 4x4 system lets you shift into 4WD High and keep right on going.

While Ranger's standard system makes you stop, get out and lock hubs.

To help you look good standing still, there's that new Chevy S-10 Baja. Or you can trick up an S-10 your way with our new Preferred Equipment Groups and save up to $1,900* in the bargain.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A CLIENT OF OURS IN REDS' COUNTRY

At Shearson Lehman Hutton, it means working one to one with a Financial Consultant who understands you, your needs and concerns as an investor.

It means listening to you, getting back to you promptly with answers and opportunities.

We are an investment firm that believes in telling our clients, clearly and consistently, where we stand. On interest rates. On issues of the day.

We bring the serious investor an in-depth understanding of the stock market with one of the largest equity research departments in the industry.

Not surprisingly, we are the only investment firm to rank as a leader in the three key areas of research: Investment strategy. Economics. And sector analysis.

We are also the unquestioned leader in the Over-The-Counter stock market, where we make markets in more than 2,700 NASDAQ stocks.

In fixed-income investments, we have 590 dedicated professionals in 13 fully staffed bond research and sales offices across the country. Our municipal bond research department is one of the industry's largest.

In mutual funds, we offer a full range of choices and investment objectives.

In managed money, our client opportunities include the professional management of separate accounts of $100,000 or more, a concept we pioneered.

Together, these capabilities and many more add up to a singular whole: an investment firm big enough, in every sense of the word, to treat you as an individual.

Our Financial Consultants stand ready to help you determine which investments are right for you, right now.

Talk with us.

Thanks
Hutch!

His name was Frederick Charles Hutchinson. But everyone knew him as "Hutch."

He led the Reds from the cellar to the 1961 National League championship in just a season and a half.

He taught all of us about courage. And about leadership.

The toughest lesson came in 1964. That was the year he managed the team until he was too weak to put on a uniform. The year we learned what determination, courage, and strength really mean.

Cancer took Hutch that autumn. But his legacy of strength is reaffirmed every year, when the Hutch Award is presented to a player whose strong character and will to win keep the spirit of Hutch alive for all of us.

Times may change, and new challenges emerge. But a true leader sets a pattern for all time. That's why today, we pause to pay tribute to Hutch. He set an example we're proud to follow: in our field, when you face the toughest challenges, you find the way to important health care concerns.

Thanks, Hutch.
